SPORTING NOTES.

Brief Resume of Sporting Matters Here and Elsewhere.

Local athletes are up bright and early these mornings practicing for the sports to take place during the celebration.

THE RING.

Tom Frakar and Dave Flahrity fought ten rounds with two-ounce gloves for $500 aside on a barge near Portland, yesterday afternoon. George Williams was referee. The first two rounds were tame. The third was lively and there was a hot interchange of blows. Fraker getting the best of it. Frakar had things his own way after that. In the seventh round he nearly knocked Flahrity out with a punch in the eye. At the end of the tenth round the referee gave the fight to Frakar. This sort of thing is classed as "sport".

THE SURE THING SPORT.

A case has been just tried in Seattle growing out of the Quinn-Cameron wrestling match. The judge has reserved his decision. A Mr. J. R. Smith who got a straight tip placed his money on the wrong man and having discovered that such was the case wants his money back. It amounted to $45. The plaintiff rested his claim on the ground that betting was not a valid transaction.

HERE AND THERE.

Another trotting horse arrived from the Sound last evening to take part in the races on the 23rd and 24th.

Alf. Mitchell, the middleweight pugilist, says he is willing to meet Dempsey for the prize offered by the California Athletic Club of San Francisco.

A MATCH MADE.

At last another match has been made between W. H. Quinn and Matsada Sorakichi. Thursday afternoon the two met in Seattle and, after considerable discussion, signed articles. The articles call for a match for $500 a side, the winner to take the entire gate receipts. The style is Græco-Roman, and Quinn agrees to throw his opponent three times in one hour, actual wrestling time, forfeiting the match should he be thrown once. The contest will take place in Seattle, July 1, unless both parties agree to a change. Interest in the match will be great, the more so from the fact that the two have met twice before, neither match being satisfactory. In the first match the Jap lifted Quinn from his feet and threw him down, Quinn's back striking a projecting iron rod in the Turn Hall, his injuries disabling him. The next match occurred after the Jap's health began to fail last July. The match will take place in one of the halls in Seattle.

ENTRIES.

Boatmen are reminded that entries for the boat races on the 23rd and 24th instants will close on Tuesday the 20th. Those intending to take part should not delay in notifying the secretary of their intention.

A cricket match was played at Esquimalt this afternoon between the Victoria Cricket Club and a team from H. M. S. Amphion.

AMERICAN DISPATCHES.

A WOMAN RIDING ASTRIDE IS THE CAUSE OF SENSATION.

Dressed in Knickerbockers and Divided Skirts She Eloquently Discusses the New Reform—A Somnambulist Who Robbed Himself.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 17.—The residence of Mrs. E. H. Craft, an estimable widow living in the centre of the town of Tallahassee, was fired into several times last night by some persons as yet unknown. No one was hit. Three or four men were seen stealing away from the grounds after the firing. The police, it is said, have not tried to find out the offenders. No further particulars are obtainable. It appears that she is engaged to U. S. Marshal Weeks, who lives here, and that she is on his bond. This, says the Marshal, is the cause for the outrage, although he will not say why he thinks so. She is living alone with her uncle John Bradley, aged 84 years, cousin of Associate Judge Bradley, and two servants. The Marshal left on the first train for Tallahassee to-night and says that someone will be hurt up there if this thing keeps on.

False Report.

BUTTE, Mont., May 17.—The report that Nat Goodwin and his company was wrecked west of here yesterday afternoon was incorrect. Miss May Durfee, of the company, died at Missoula on Wednesday, and the company remained there to look after the shipment of the body east. Its failure to arrive here for last night's performance caused the rumor.

Ran Ashore.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—A dispatch to the Merchants' Exchange from Redondo Beach this morning says that the steamer Santa Maria, from San Francisco for Lompoc, went ashore four miles from Redonda yesterday during the heavy fog. She is lying on shore and her cargo is being removed.

A Revolution Imminent.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, May 17.—Word has just been received here from Eagle Pass, which is just on the border line of Mexico and the United States, that a revolution of considerable importance is very imminent in the state of Cahuila, Mexico. Governor Jose Maria Garcia and President Diaz have had very unpleasant feelings towards each other for some time and it is reported that the governor has had matters all arranged for a revolution in his state. One thousand cavalrymen who have been encamped at Eagle Pass have been ordered to march to Juarez in order to be near at hand in case of an outbreak.

A Light Sentence.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Commander McCalla was sentenced to suspension from rank and duty for three years. The sentence has been approved. He will retain his present number on the list of commanders while suspended. The action of the department is embodied in a general order issued by the secretary this afternoon approving the sentence.

Union Pacific Line to China.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.—M. M. Stern, manager of the local office of the Canadian Pacific Company, is closely watching the Union Pacific project to establish a new China line with an eastern terminus at Portland. At latest accounts the company has engaged two medium-sized steamers for the service and they were being refitted in Chinese waters in preparation to going on the line. Neither steamer has yet started eastward, and the delay has given rise to the belief that after all the plan may be abandoned.

"It is well known," said Mr. Stern to-day to a Postal press reporter, "that those who had the project in charge intended that a large portion of the inward-bound freight should be rice, and since the rice crop has been reduced they naturally hesitate about embarking in the line with reduced prospects for inward-bound freight.

Regarding their chances for outward flour freight they may depend on it that they will have to look sharp for every barrel they get. The Canadian company now has control of this business, the flour going from Portland to Vancouver on specially chartered steamers, and there is transferred to steamers of the China lines. The Canadian company naturally wants to retain this business as it affords outward freight in some degree commensurate with the outward cargoes carried by the Pacific Mail and Occidental and Oriental steamers. There is no use in crossing a river before we get to it though, and I think as long as our service gives such satisfaction to the Portland people as it now does, we have little to fear from the opposition which a new and untried line can set up to us."

The Alaska Volcanoes.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—The famous Alaskan volcano known as Bogoslov, that arose so strangely from the ocean some seven years ago is once more in eruption. It is expected that some very vivid descriptions of the island volcano with its crest of flame and fire will be given by the passengers of the Alaska Company's steamer St. Paul who saw the volcano and who will probably arrive here to-day. Bogoslov is nearly due west of the island of Unalaska.

Commander McCalla.

NEW YORK, May 17.—"Commander B. H. McCalla detached and ordered home," was entered to-day in the log of U. S. S. Enterprise, which has been lying for weeks at the Brooklyn navy yards. This entry is all the record which the ships books will have of Capt. McCalla's suspension from rank and duty for three years. Capt. McCalla received his official notification this morning from Rear Admiral Braine that he had been convicted. The admiral also returned the captain's sword but he cannot wear it for three years. This morning he will probably leave for Newport, where he has a summer home. Under sentence inflicted on him Commander McCalla cannot wear his uniform and cannot leave the country for three years. He also is not allowed to visit the Navy Department while serving the sentence. The general opinion in the navy yard yesterday was that McCalla had escaped with a light sentence. The only thing that is really hard for Captain McCalla, said one of the officers, is the fact that he must retain his present number in the list of commanders. There is only one of his old classmates at Annapolis now ahead of him, but if it is two years before he returns to duty he will probably see all the members of his class ranking ahead of him.

Robbed Himself.

NEW YORK, May 17.—A mystery which has engaged the attention of the Brooklyn police for several days, involving the tale of the gagging, chloroforming and robbery of Frank D'Ehemeridis, a young Cuban professor of music, found a solution in the theory of somnambulism, as the missing valuables have been found. He is now satisfied that he must have put the things where they were found, and that he also tied himself, although the operation must have been a peculiarly difficult one.

Should Women Ride Astride.

NEW YORK, May 17.—Miss Nellie Littell has attracted a great deal of attention to-day by taking a 10-mile horse back ride in Central Park, riding astride just like a man. Miss Littell comes of an old Virginia family. She wore knickerbockers and high top boots. In regard to the side saddle Miss Littell says: "It is cruelty to both horse and woman. It injures and tires the animal and is liable to give spinal curvature and other troubles to women. It leads to a one sided development and is certainly ungraceful and unsafe."

Kidnapping Gypsies.

NEW YORK, May 17.—A band of strolling gypsies recently kidnapped Joseph Mitchell, the five year old son of Henry Mitchell, of Bloomfield, N. J. John Andrews, a peddlar, discovered the child's whereabouts and the child's father in company with his neighbors and two bloodhounds went in pursuit of the gypsies. Mitchell recovered the child and the gypsies were driven out of the valley at the point of guns.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC LOSSES.

During Winter Months the Coast Lines Do Not Pay Expenses.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.—The statement of the earnings and expenditures of the Southern Pacific company for the first three months of the present year shows a large excess of expenses over earnings, and consequently a large deficit, mainly due to the snow blockades, floods and washouts of January and February. The earnings for the present year up to March 31, were $9,667,755, which is $503,381 less than the earnings for the corresponding period of 1889, which were $10,171,144. The deficit arising on the Pacific system during this period was $1,929,001, while on the Atlantic system there was a surplus of $194,829. The total deficit for the whole system was $1,782,312, which is $540,697 more than the deficit for the corresponding period last year, which was $1,191,615.

If this experience of former years is repeated, the earnings during the rest of the year will show a very large increase over the above figures, and will make the showing for the whole year a favorable one.

CIVIL SERVICE.

General Clarkson Thinks Official Life Should Have a Term.

CHICAGO, May 16.—In a lengthy interview to-night, with the reporter of a local paper, Assistant Postmaster-General Clarkson is quoted as saying: "The government of the United States is a political, not a business machine. The genius of our political progress," he added, "lies in the active interest taken in the government by the people. This interest should be kept alive and aroused to even a greater extent than at present; it is most essential. Essayists who enjoy formulating theories for an ideal government admit that their cherished systems can only come through the political activity of the people." Mr. Clarkson thinks decidedly that this country would not be better off with civil service like England's.

"What," said he, "perpetuate an office holding class, of which every member arriving at the age of sixty shall receive a pension? What aim in life would be theirs, save to hang on by the easiest method possible? Their ambition would die for want of nourishment and their value to the country decrease. I believe continued service in government employ is bad for any man, and after a certain period all public servants should be sent back to the people to renew themselves. Each office should have a fixed tenure to preserve the respect of the occupant, and if the occupant desires a second term let him show by his work that he is entitled to it."

Mr. Clarkson would not abolish civil service examination, but thinks every man should be examined by the official in whose employ he is to be. Such a principle prevails in business—why not in government?

Mr. Clarkson asserted in reply to a question as to the comparison of our service with that of England that the business of our government is transacted more accurately, and at a lower percentage of loss than any other public or private business in existence.

Well Adapted.

The effective action on the glandular system and the blood, and the general regulating tonic and purifying action of B.B.B., especially adapt it for the billious, nervous, costive or scrofulous. From 3 to 6 bottles will cure all blood diseases, from a common pimple to the worst scrofulous sore.

The ladies of Victoria will find it to their interest to examine my stock of white linen before purchasing elsewhere Stamping done. Mrs. Hendry, 37 View street.

HOME AND FOREIGN.

SUBMARINE GUNBOAT—A SATISFACTORY TEST MADE.

The Veteran Von Moltke Discusses Present and Future Dangers. Gladstone Cheered on His Journey by Crowds of Admirers, Etc.

PARIS, May 17.—Recent experiments with the new submarine gunboat Gymnote have proved entirely satisfactory. Several changes have been made since the trial a short time ago, and it can now be confidently stated that the problem of sailing under water has been solved. After the first experiments it was found necessary to modify the accumulator cases, and after a patient research, fragile non-conducting substances being set aside, cases were at length produced which have given entire satisfaction.

Hypnotism Forbidden.

BRUSSELS, May 17.—In accordance with a resolution passed by the Brussels Academy of Medicine the Belgian Government has forbidden all public seances of hypnotism, and declared all hypnotism, except used legitimately for healing purposes to be illegal. Hypnotism of girls under 18 is made punishable by a fine and imprisonment.

The City of Tomsk.

LONDON, May 17.—The city of Tomsk which is reported to have been destroyed by a flood and fire is the capital of the government of that name in West Siberia, and is situated on the Tomsk river. It is built mostly of wood, but has substantial public buildings. Its population is 25,000.

Admiration of Gladstone.

LONDON, May 16.—Mr. Gladstone's route from Ipswich to Norwich to-day, was literally lined with his admirers. At every station he was greeted by crowds of people, who had assembled hours before the arrival of his train, and patiently awaited his coming. At a few stations he was compelled to speak in response to repeated calls, but his remarks were brief and unimportant, from a political point of view. As the train rolled into Norwich a tremendous cheer went up from the crowd surrounding the station, and the ex-Premier's appearance on the platform was the signal for another and greater outburst of applause. As Mr. Gladstone and the committee delegated to receive him entered the carriages and were driven slowly away, the vast crowd formed in line and followed cheering as they marched. No greater demonstration of popular admiration for a British subject than that which characterized Mr. Gladstone's triumphal entrance into Norwich has ever been witnessed.

Celebration of the Queen's Birthday.

LONDON, May 16.—Elaborate preparations are being made for the celebration the Queen's birthday, which, although actually occuring on May 24th, will be observed this year on Wednesday, May 21st. The infirmities and vagaries of Her Majesty have combined to place her birthday in the list of moveable feasts, and the annual celebration of the event requires a special appointment in order to insure spontaniety in its observance.

Instructing Turkish Physicians.

BERLIN, May 17.—Prince Bismarck's private physician, Dr. Schwelinger, is at present engaged in instructing Fohry Bey and Behria Bey, the Sultan's personal medical advisers, how to relieve that monarch of the obesity from which he suffers. The Turkish physicians will practice on a similar case for six months in this city before undertaking the cure of their royal master.

FROM WESTMINSTER.

Mayor Brown a Candidate for the City—Jno. Kirkland in the Field for the District.

NEW WESTMINSTER, May 17.—Mayor Brown has publicly announced his determination to contest the city for a seat in the Local House.

John Kirkland, Reeve of Delta, is the latest addition to the lists for the District.

The highest stage of the water in the Fraser this season occurred yesterday, it being ten feet above low water mark.

Steamship Lackme arrived last night from Portland with a large cargo of freight.

The whole of the stock of the Westminster and Vancouver Electric Tramway has now been subscribed and the construction of the street railway in this city is expected to be begun in the course of a week.

James A. Laidlaw left yesterday for London, England.

THE WAR OF THE FUTURE.

Woe to Him That Starts It Says Count Von Moltke.

BERLIN, May 16.—In the Reichstag Von Moltke, in resuming the debate on the military bill, declared that the days of war raised by cabinets are past. The elements that now threaten peace are found among the people. The cupidity of classes less favored by fortune and the rapid improvement of their condition by forcible measures are among those elements. Abroad these dangerous elements are producing everywhere discontent and may at any moment precipitate war, even against the will of the Government. For the Government is not strong enough to oppose the passions of the people. When that war that has for the past decade hung like the sword of Damocles over our heads, at last breaks out, its duration no one will be able to foresee. It might be a seven years' war, or even a thirty years' war. Woe to him who starts it.

LONDON, May 14.—The Berlin correspondent of the Times says that Von Moltke's speech assured the adoption of the military bill.

Change of Steamers.

The steamer Yosemite will leave for Vancouver on Tuesday morning in place of the Islander. She will leave at 8 o'clock instead of 4—the sailing hour of the Islander.

To Mend the Cable.

The cable-laying barge Electron was pulled alongside the C. P. N. wharf yesterday to take on the cable for mending the line between Victoria and the Sound. This will be a great boon to those using the telegraph service, as heretofore the price of a dispatch to Port Townsend has been double what it will be hereafter. The cable will probably be ready by the end of the month.

Young Mens' Christian Association.

Young men, either strangers in the city or residents here will be cordially welcomed at the religious services for men at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association, Broad street and Trounce avenue to-morrow. The first service will be held at 9.30 for Bible study, the second will be a gospel service at 4 o'clock, and the third an evangelistic service at 8.15 p.m. There will be good singing, lead by the Association orchestra.

A Mean Trick.

Yesterday morning some one attempted to poison a valuable Irish setter owned by Mr. Jackson, of Drake, Jackson and Helmcken, but the mean trick was found out before the poison had done its deadly work, and the dog is now alright. The dog is a very valuable one, having been imported from England about a year ago by Mr. Jackson and Mr. Helmcken, and had died, the fiend who attempted his life would have suffered severely if found out.

Sunday Music.

The new Victoria Band of fifteen pieces will play at Beacon Hill Park to-morrow afternoon between the hours of two and five o'clock, the following fine selection will be given:

Grand March	Heroic	Hecker
Anthem	Holy Voices
Grand Selection	Herald Angels	Beyer
Grand March	Albert Edward	Lee
Selection	Moody and Sankey's Songs	De Lucy
Anthem	Nazareth
Selection	Donizetti	Godfrey
Grand Selection	Atlanta	Wedmead

Next week it is intended to circulate a subscription list to help defray the expenses of the Sunday music, and if sufficient help is given, the concerts will be continued through the summer.

A New Firm.

The extensive stock of liquors from the cellars of the late John Boyd, valued at $10,000, have been purchased by Messrs. G. C. Sauer & W. H. Routledge, who have opened a warehouse at 57 Wharf street, where they will in the future conduct a wholesale wine and liquor business, under the firm name of G. C. Sauer & Co. Both gentlemen are extensively known in and about Victoria, their established reputation as square dealing business men, and their large acquaintance in business circles insuring them a full share of the patronage in their new line. Mr. John Boyd had the reputation of keeping one of the best assorted stocks of liquors and wines in the Province. The new firm will handle many of the same brands, carrying at all times only the best goods. Mr. Routledge will continue the real estate business at the Government street office, where the financial business of the new firm will also be conducted. Mr. Sauer will personally superintend the business at the Wharf street store.

NAUTICAL NOTES.

Items of Interest Along the Water Front—General Marine News.

The steamer Nell will be inspected before returning North.

The Falcon is on Clarke & Watson's ways receiving repairs.

The Alert brought down a scow load of coal yesterday for the Kingston.

A full staff of men are engaged putting the boilers into the steamer Rithet.

The new cannery boat being built at Turpel's ways for Messrs. Laidlaw & Irving will be launched in a few days.

The steamer Alert will leave for the West Coast to-morrow morning with supplies for Penney's store. She will bring down a lot of seal skins.

PERSONAL.

Movements of Well Known People in Various Directions.

LECTURE.

Subject: "Advertising—Three Kinds of Advertisers."

A retired American, who made his competency by shrewd advertising, thus discourses for the benefit of every man who spends money in advertising:

THE CARELESS ADVERTISER.

The Careless Advertiser works at a great disadvantage, as the very cornerstone of successful business is carefulness in investment. The careless advertiser takes advice too easily and permits too much to depend upon chance. He is at the mercy of "circulating liars" who never prove their statements conclusively. It is the careless advertiser beyond all others, who keeps alive "fakes." He does not discriminate as to the character of men to be believed or the stories they may tell. And as there are more illegitimate advertising "schemes" than there are legitimate advertising channels, he pays out more money for poor than for good service. After the careless advertiser has been imposed upon he frequently wreaks his vengeance upon the legitimate medium and drives off the agent who represents the latter. A legitimate advertising agent always wants his patron to make money on his investment, and will exert himself to see that he does.

THE CAREFUL ADVERTISER.

The Careful Advertiser may be successful, but his possibilities are limited because he wants to do everything himself, and he frequently wants to see the cash box coming down on the wire before he orders the advertising. This is the care that kill; it would kill a cat; and the fickle jade, Fortune, begins flirting with some bolder wooer, who will take counsel of experts about advertising. The apparent cost frequently deters the careful advertiser. Yet advertising is like other investments: the large investor makes more money than the small one. The secret of profitable newspaper advertising is in the use of the right matter, inserted in the right newspaper, at the right time, in the right territory and at the right price.

THE LIBERAL ADVERTISER.

The Liberal Advertiser will succeed if he only directs his liberality in right channels and pushes that branch of his business with the same energy he does the rest of it. But if he indiscriminately spends his cash on every scheme, fake and fraud presented, he may be a very long way from success. A fortune may be spent in advertising without satisfactory results. Many a one has been so dissipated. If advertising be done for accommodation, for charity, for friendship, for lack of courage to say "no," or for personal popularity, it will be fruitless. To advertise for business popularity is quite different to advertising for personal popularity. The former makes customers of the masses; the latter, customers of a class. The only excuse for spending money in advertising is to gain trade; it is a pure cold business proposition. Some people prefer personal popularity to trade; they need the constant advice of one who regards advertising as the simplest of business propositions. Business run to suit the caprices of others will not succeed. It must be run on principle, and advertising for trade must be run likewise. Those who advertise best, not most, succeed. The liberal advertiser ought to succeed, and he would if he expended his money judiciously.

PROFITABLE RESULTS.

The advertising that brings profitable results is not that which is inserted in a paper simply because it appears to be cheap. The hunter loads his gun for the particular game he is after—and hunts where that kind of game is to be found. Bird shot was not made to kill bear.

That ex-Mayor HENDRY, a business man, and who, presumably, is well acquainted with the foibles of New Westminster, should deliberately constitute himself a "Tooley street tailor," is one of those things past accounting for. A calm survey of the situation, however, taking into account the uncompromising attitude of the Columbian, leads us to suspect that the dispatch was inspired by and will probably be paid for by the Government, as a means of setting the ball of political enthusiasm in motion. It is hard lines, very hard lines indeed when the Government so popular, so progressive, so deeply solicitous of provincial welfare, must resort to advertising practices to bring them into prominence which would put an American real estate boomer to the blush. But amid all this thunder of rapturous applause that greets the Premier wherever he goes, whence comes it that he does not produce a dispatch from his own constituency offering to elect him by acclamation. An ominous silence, if we may so express it, proceeds from that quarter. "Honest JOHN" may possibly be returned by his old constituency, more from force of habit than anything else, but he will have learned this lesson, namely, that the man who rises superior to his constituency in the matter of a "partial measure," which, in effect, amounts to a positive gerrymander, sinks the statesman into the politician, and paves the way to becoming the butt of his enemies and a reproach to his friends. In the meantime Mr. HENDRY is to be felicitated on his advent into the advertising agency business.

Mr. Gladstone and the Chinese Question—Prof. Harrison's Election, Etc.

LONDON, May 15.—Gladstone has written a letter in explanation of his remarks on the Chinese question on the occasion of his presentation of an address to Thomas Bayley, Porter at the Cobden Club on Monday last, when he criticised the anti-Chinese laws in operation in the United States and declared the Chinese were more dreaded for their virtues than their vices.

The Liberal leader says he did not mean to be understood as favoring unlimited immigration, but that in limited numbers they are no more harmful than other races and classes. He admits that legislation restricting the number of Chinese to be annually landed is necessary but condemns the policy of wholly closing the ports of one nationality while leaving them open to others no more desirable as citizens.

Prof. Harrison, who has been elected to parliament to-day for the middle division of Tipperary, is the gentleman who was arrested and committed to Londondery jail a year ago on the charge of convicting evicted tenants. His offense consisted of having provided food for starving tenants of the Gwendon estate of Captain Oliphant, who were famishing by the roadside. While engaged in this work, in which he was assisted by several others, a sergeant of police came along and ordered him to desist. Harrison refused to do so and was arrested. Prof. Harrison is an Oxford graduate, an able politician and a fluent debater.

On June 10th the University of Cambridge will confer upon Henry M. Stanley the degree of doctor of laws, on which occasion there will be the usual delivery of mutually laudatory speeches and a banquet.

General Booth, commander-in-chief of the Salvation Army, opened a bank for the benefit of poor people whose deposits would not be received by ordinary banking institutions, owing to the smallness of the sums tendered. He explains that his object is not to make money, except for those who transact business at the bank.

The immense spinning mills at Lodse near Warsaw, in Russian Poland, were burned to the ground to-day, entailing upon the owners a loss of over 1,000,000 roubles. The mills employed upwards of 1,000 hands and they will be thrown out of work for several months.

A German syndicate of capitalists has bought tracts of land in Poland aggregating 18,000 acres with the object of dividing it into small holdings and selling it to German colonists on the installment plan.

The life tenure proposed in Mexico for President Diaz is commented on with considerable favor by the Conservative journals as showing that the Spanish Americans are not able to bear the strain of Republican institutions. Mexican securities, however, do not seem to have shared in the optimistic view of dictatorship, for that republic's investors are uneasy over the prospect of a revolution.

CHRIST'S ASCENSION.

DR. TALMAGE PREACHES AN ELOQUENT SERMON FROM PS. XXIV. 7.

The Wonderful Features of the Rising of Our Lord from Mount Olivet—It Teaches That Nothing Is Impossible to the Almighty.

BROOKLYN, May 11.—After reading appropriate passages of Scripture and the usual prayers and musical exercises, Dr. Talmage preached the following sermon from the Academy of Music this morning from the words, "Lift up your heads, O ye gates; and be ye lifted up, ye everlasting doors; and the King of Glory shall come in" (Ps. xxiv, 7).

In olden times when a great conqueror returned from victorious war, the people in wild transport would take hold of the gates of the city and lift them from their hinges, as much as to say: "This city needs no more gates to defend it since this conqueror has got home. Off from the hinges with the gates!" David, who was the poet of poets, foretells in his own way the triumphal entrance of Christ into heaven after his victory over sin and death and hell. It was as if the celestial inhabitants had said: "Here He comes! Make way for him! Push back the bolts of diamond! Take hold of the doors of pearl and hoist them from their hinges of gold! Lift up your heads, O ye gates; and be ye lifted up, ye everlasting doors; and the King of Glory shall come in."

Among the mountains of Palestine no one is more uplifting than Mount Olivet. It was the peroration of our Lord's ministry. On the roof of a house in Jerusalem I asked, "Which is Olivet?" and the first glance transfixed me. But how shall I describe my emotions, when, near the close of a journey, in which we had for two nights encamped amid the shattered masonry of old Jericho, and tasted of the acrid waters of the Dead sea, that crystal sarcophagus of the buried cities of the plain, and waded down into the deep and swift Jordan to baptize a man, and visited the ruins of the house of Mary and Martha at Bethany, we found ourselves in stirrups and on horse, lathered with the long and difficult way, ascending Mount Olivet. Oh, that solemn and suggestive ridge! It is a limestone hill, a mile in length, and 300 feet high, and 2,700 feet above the level of the sea. Over it King David fled with a broken heart. Over it Pompey led his devastating hosts. Here the famous Tenth Legion built their batteries in besiegement. The Garden of Gethsemane weeps at the foot of it. Along the base of this hill flashed the lanterns and torches of those who came to arrest Jesus. From the trees on this hill the boughs were torn off and thrown into the path of Christ's triumphal procession. Up and down that road Jesus had walked twice a day from Bethany to Jerusalem, and from Jerusalem to Bethany. There, again and again, he had taught his disciples. Half way up this mount he uttered his lamentation, "O Jerusalem, Jerusalem!" From its height Jesus took flight homeward when he had finished his earthly mission. There is nothing more for him to do. A sacrifice was needed to make peace between the recreant earth and the outraged heaven, and he had offered it. Death needed to be conquered, and he had put his resurrection foot upon it. The thirty-three years of voluntary exile had ended. The grandest, tenderest, mightiest good-by ever heard was now to be uttered.

ON MOUNT OLIVET.

On Mount Olivet Jesus stands in a group of Galilee fishermen. They had been together in many scenes of sadness and persecution and had been the more endeared by that brotherhood of suffering. They had expected him to stay until the day of coronation when he would take the earthly throne and wave a scepter mightier, and rule a dominion wider than any Pharaoh, than any David, than any Cæsar. But now all these anticipations collapse. Christ has given his last advice. He has offered his last sympathy. He has spoken his last word. His hands are spread apart as one is apt to do when he pronounces a benediction, when suddenly the strongest and most stupendous law of all worlds is shattered. It is the law which, since the worlds were created, holds them together. It is the law which holds everything to the earth or, temporarily hurled from earth, returns it; the law which keeps the planets whirling around our sun, and our solar system whirling around other systems, and all the systems whirling around the throne of God—the law of gravitation. That law is suspended, or relaxed, or broken, to let the body of Jesus go. That law had laid hold of him thirty-three years before, when he descended. It had relaxed its grip of him but once, and that when it declined to sink him from the top of the waves on Lake Galilee, on which he walked, to the bottom of the lake. That law of gravitation must now give way to him who made the law. It may hold the other stars, but it cannot longer hold the Morning Star of the Redemption. It may hold the moonday sun, but it cannot hold the Sun of Righteousness. The fingers of that law are about to open to let go the most illustrious Being the world has ever seen, and whom it had worst maltreated. The strongest law of nature which philosophers ever weighed or measured must at last give way. It will break between the rock of Olivet and the heel of Christ's foot. Watch it, all ye disciples! Watch it, all the earth! Watch it, all the heavens! Christ about to leave this planet. How? His friends will not consent to have him go. His enemies catching him would only attempt by another Calvary to put Him into some other tomb. I will tell you how. The chain of the most tremendous natural law is unlinked. The sacred foot of our Lord and the limestone rock part, and part forever.

THE ASCENSION.

Leaning back, and with pallid cheek and uplifted eyes, the disciples see their Lord rising from the solid earth. Then, rushing forward, they would grasp his feet to hold him fast, but they are out of reach and it is too late to detain him. Higher than the tops of the fig trees from which they had plucked the fruit. Higher than the olive trees that shaded the mount. Higher, until he is within sight of the Bethlehem where he was born, and the Jordan where he was baptized, and the Golgotha where he was slain. Higher, until on stairs of fleecy cloud he steps. Higher, until into a sky bluer than the lake that could not sink him, he disappears into a sea of glory whose billowing splendors hide him. The fishermen watch and watch, wondering if the law of nature will not reassert itself, and he shall in a few moments come back again, and they shall see him descending; first his scarred feet coming in sight, then the scarred side, then the scarred brow, and they may take again his scarred hand. But the moments pass by and the hours, and no reappearance. Gone out of sight of earth, but come within sight of heaven. And rising still, not welcomed by one angelic choir like those who one Christmas night escorted him down, but all heaven turns out to greet him home, and the temples have especial anthem, and the palaces especial banquet, and the streets especial throngs; and all along the line to the foot of the throne, for years vacated but now again to be taken, there are arches lifted, and banners waved, and trumpets sounded, and doxologies chanted, and coronets cast down.

The angels throng'd his chariot wheels,
And bore him to his throne;
Then swept their golden harps and sung
"The glorious work is done."

It was the greatest day in heaven! As he goes up the steps of the throne that thirty-three years before he abdicated for our advantage, there rises from all the hosts of heaven a shout, saintly, cherubic, seraphic, archangelic. "Hallelujah! Amen!"

O garden of olives, thou dear honored spot,
The fame of thy glory shall ne'er be forgot.

CHRIST LEADS US.

No wonder that for at least fourteen hundred years the churches have, forty days after Easter, kept Ascension day; for the lessons are most inspiring and glorious. It takes much of the uncertainty out of the idea of heaven, when from Olivet we see human nature ascending. The same body that rose from Joseph's tomb ascended from Mount Olivet. Our human nature is in heaven today. Just as they had seen Christ for forty days, he ascended, head, face, shoulders, hands, feet and the entire human organism. Humanity ascended! Ah, how closely that keeps Christ in sympathy with those who are still in the struggle! Ascended scars, face scars, hand scars, feet scars, shoulder scars! That will keep him in accord with all the suffering, with all the weary, with all the imposed upon. No more is he a spirit now than a body, no more of heaven than earth. Those of the celestial inhabitants who never saw our world now walk around him and learn from his physical contour something of what our race will be when, in the resurrection, heaven will have uncounted bodies as well as uncounted spirits. On Ascension day he lifted himself through the atmosphere of Palestine until, amid the immensities, he disappeared. He was the only being the world ever saw who could lift himself; surely if he could lift himself he can do the lesser deed of lifting us.

No star goes down but climbs another sky,
No sun sets here except to rise on high,
Christ leads us all the way; through the birth hour, for he was born in Bethlehem; through boyhood, for he passed it in Nazareth; through injustices, for he endured the outrages of Pilate's court room; through death, for he suffered it on Calvary; through the sepulcher, for he lay three days within its darkened walls; through resurrection, for the solid masonry gave way on the first Easter morning; through ascension, for Mount Olivet watched him as he climbed the skies; through the shining gates, for he entered them amid magnificent acclaim. And here is a gratifying consideration that you never thought of. We will see our Lord just as he looked on earth. As he rose from the tomb he ascended from Mount Olivet. We shall see him as he looked on the road to Emmaus, as he appeared in the upper room in Jerusalem, as he was that day of valedictory on the ridge from which he swung into the skies. How much we will want to see him!

"SHOW ME THE DOCTOR."

I was reading of a man born blind. He was married to one who took care of him all those years of darkness. A surgeon said to him, "I can remove that blindness," and so he did. His sight given him, a rose was handed to the man who never before had seen a rose and he was in admiration of it, and his family whom he had never seen before now appeared to him, and he was in tears of rapture, when he suddenly cried out: "I ought first to have asked to see the one who cured me; show me the doctor." When from our eyes the scales of earth shall fall, and we have our first vision of heaven, our first cry ought not to be, "Where are my loved ones?" Our first cry ought to be, "Where is Christ, who made all this possible? Show me the doctor!" Glory be to God for ascended humanity! Could we realize it, and that it is all in sympathy for us, we would have as cool a courage in the conflict of this life as had Charles the Twelfth when he was dictating dispatches to his secretary, and a bomb shell fell into the room, and the secretary dropped his pen and attempted flight. Charles said to him: "Go on with your writing! What has the bombshell to do with the letter I am dictating?" If the ascended Christ be on our side, nothing should disturb us.

Our fellow sufferer yet retains
A fellow feeling in our pains,
And still remembers, in the skies,
His tears, his agonies, and cries.

GOD SUPERIOR TO ALL LAWS.

I am so glad that Christ broke the natural law of gravitation when he shook off from his feet the clutch of Mount Olivet. People talk as though cold, iron, unsympathetic, natural law controlled everything. The reign of law is a majestic thing, but the God who made it has a right to break it, and again and again has broken it, and again and again will break it. A law is only God's way of doing things, and if he chooses to do them some other way he has a right to do so. A law is not strong enough to shackle the Almighty. Christ broke botanical law when, one Monday morning in March, on the way from Bethany to Jerusalem, by a few words he turned a full leaved fig tree into a lifeless stick. He broke ichthyological law when, without any natural inducement, he swung a great school of fish into a part of Lake Tiberias, where the fishermen had cast their nets for eight or ten hours without the capture of a minnow; and by making a fish help pay the tax by yielding from its mouth a Roman stater. Christ broke the law of storms by compelling, with a word, the angered sea to hush its frenzy, and the winds to quit their bellowing. He broke zoological law when he made the devils possess the swine of Gadara. He broke the law of economics when he made enough bread for five thousand people out of five biscuits that would not ordinarily have been enough for ten of the hungry. He broke intellectual law when, by a word, he silenced a maniac into placidity. He broke physiological law when, by a touch, he straightened a woman who for eighteen years had been bent almost double, and when he put spring into the foot of inhumated Lazarus, and when, without medicine, he gave the dying girl back to health to the Syro-Phœnician mother, and when he made the palatial home of the nobleman resound again with the laughter of his restored boy, and when, without knife or battery, he set cataracted eyes to seeing again, and the drum of deaf ears to vibrating again, and the nerves of paralyzed arms to thrilling again, and then when in leaving the earth he defied all atmospheric law and physiological law, and that law which has in it withes and cables and girders enough to hold the universe, the law of gravitation.

CHRIST STILL LIVES.

The Christ who proved himself on so many occasions, and especially the last, superior to law, still lives; and every day, in answer to prayer for the good of the world, he is overriding the law. Blessed be God that we are not the subjects of blind fatality, but of a sympathizing divinity. Have you never seen a typhoid fever break, or a storm suddenly quiet, or a ship a-beam's-end right itself, or a fog lift, or a parched sky break in showers, or a perplexity disentangled, or the inconsolable take solace, or the wayward reform at the call of prayer? I have seen it; multitudes have seen it. You have, if you have been willing to see it. Deride not the faith cure. Because impostors attempt it is nothing against good men whom God hath honored with marvelous restorations. Pronounce nothing impossible to prayer and trust. Because you and I cannot effect it is no reason why others may not. By the same argument Lecould prove that Raphael never painted a Madonna, and that Mendelssohn never wrote an oratorio, and that Phidias never chiseled a statue. Because we cannot accomplish it ourselves, we are not to conclude that others may not. There are in immensity great ranges of mists which have proved, under closer telescopic scrutiny, to be the store house of worlds, and I do not know but from that passage in James, which to some of us is yet misty and dim, there may roll out a new heaven and a new earth: "The prayer of faith shall save the sick." The faith curists may, in this war against disease, be only skirmishing before a general engagement, in which all the maladies of earth shall be routed. Surely allopathy and homœopathy and hydropathy and eclecticism need re-enforcement from somewhere. Why not from the faith and prayer of the consecrated? The mightiest school of medicine may yet be the school of Christ. I do not know but that diseases now by all schools pronounced incurable may give way under gospel bombardment. I do not know but that the day may come when faith and prayer shall raise the dead. Strauss and Woolston and Spinoza and Hume and Schleiermacher rejected the miracles of the far past. I do not propose to be like them and reject the miracles of the far future. This I know—the Christ of Ascension day is mightier than any natural laws, for on the day of which I speak he trampled down the strongest of them all. Law is mighty, but he who made it is mightier. Drive out fatalism from your theology, and give grace the throne.

CHRIST'S GESTURES.

Standing today on the Ascension peak of Mount Olivet I am also gladdened at the closing gesture, the last gesture Christ ever made. "He lifted up his hands and blessed them," says the inspired account of our Lord's departure. I am so glad He lifted up his hands. Gestures are often more significant than words, attitudes than arguments. Christ had made a gesture of contempt when with his finger he wrote on the ground; gesture of repulsion when he said, "Get thee behind me, Satan;" gesture of condemnation when he said, "Woe unto you, Pharisees and hypocrites." But his last gesture, his Olivetic gesture, is a gesture of benediction. He lifted up his hands and blessed them. His arms are extended, and the palms of his hands turned downward, and so he dropped benediction upon Olivet, benediction upon Palestine, benediction upon all the earth.

The cruel world took him in at the start on a cradle of straw, and at last thrust him out with the point of the spear; but benediction! Ascending until, beneath, he saw on one side the Bethlehem where they put him among the cattle, and Calvary on the other side, where they put him among the thieves. As far as the excited and intensified vision of the group on Olivet could see him, and after he was so far up they could no longer hear his words, they saw the gesture of the outspread hands, the benediction. And that is his attitude today. His benediction upon the world's climates, and they are changing, and will keep on changing until the atmosphere shall be a commingling of October and June. Benediction upon the deserts till they whiten with lily, and blush with rose, and yellow with cowslip, and emerald with grass. Benediction upon governments till they become more just and humane. Benediction upon nations till they kneel in prayer. Benediction upon the whole earth until every mountain is an Olivet of consecration, and every lake a Galilee on whose mosaic of crystal, and opal, and sapphire divine splendors shall walk.

Oh, take the benediction of his pardon, sinners young and sinners old, sinners moderate and sinners abandoned. Take the benediction of his comfort, all ye broken hearted under bereavement and privation and myriad woes. Take his benediction, all ye sick beds, whether under acute spasms of pain or in long protracted invalidism. For orphanage, and childlessness, and widowhood a benediction. For cradles and trundle beds and rocking chairs of octogenarians, a benediction. For life and for death, for time and for eternity, for earth and for heaven, a benediction. Sublimest gesture ever made, the last gesture of our ascending Lord. "And he lifted up his hands and blessed them."

THE WORLD WANTS KINDNESS.

Is our attitude the same? Is it the clenched fist or the open palm? Is it wrath or is it kindness? Is it diabolism or Christism? God give us the grace of the open palm, open upward to get the benediction, open downward to pronounce a benediction. A lady was passing along a street and suddenly ran against a ragged boy, and she said: "I beg your pardon, my boy, I did not mean to run against you; I am very sorry." And the boy took off the piece of a cap he had upon his head and said: "You have my parding, lady, and you may run agin me and knock me clear down; I won't care." And turning to a comrade he said: "That nearly took me off my feet. Nobody ever asked my parding before." Kindness! Kindness! Fill the world with it. There has always been too much of disregard of others. Illustrated in 1630, in England, when 95,000 acres of marshes were drained for health and for crop raising, and the sportsmen destroyed the drainage works because they wanted to keep the marshes for hunting ground, where they could shoot wild ducks.

The same selfishness in all ages. Oh, for kindness that would make our life a symphony suggestive of one of the ancient banquets where everything was set to music; the plates brought in and removed to the sound of music, the motions of the carvers keeping time with the music, the conversation lifting and dropping with the rising and falling of the music. But, instead of the music of an earthly orchestra, it would be the music of a heavenly charm, our words the music of kind thoughts, our steps the music of helpful deeds, our smile the music of encouraging looks, our youth and old age the first and last bars of music conducted by the pierced hand that was opened in love and spread downward in benediction on Olivetic heights on Ascension day.

By a new way none ever trod
Christ mounted to the throne of God.

A Marvellous Recovery.

I was so ill with inflammatory rheumatism in 1882 that I was given up, and had all my earthly business put in order. One of my sons begged me to get Burdock Blood Bitters. After the third bottle I could sit up alone and eat a good meal, and in six weeks I was out of bed feeling better than I ever felt. I take three bottles every spring, and two every fall. MRS. M. N. The Opposition Candidates.

GEORGE L. MILNE,
FRANK G. RICHARDS, Jr.

THE TRUTH ABOUT MINING ROYALTIES.

If, when the Hon. JOHN ROBSON is addressing the people, he was in the habit of treating the subject in hand, not partially, but exhaustively, as becomes a strictly conscientious man, it would save the TIMES a good deal of trouble, and, besides, the people would learn to have more confidence in him. We thus allude to the Premier's fatal habit of partial statements because it would be little short of monstrous to permit his version of "An Act in Aid of Certain Railways to pass unchallenged. The Premier prefaced his remarks in his speech night before last, on the subject of mining royalties, by saying that not until after the second reading did the Opposition raise their voices in protest. Now, the truth of the matter is, when the bill came up for second reading, the Opposition did vigorously protest against certain clauses in it, one in particular, clause 15. The Opposition, however, consented to the second reading of the bill on the representation of the Attorney-General that the Government contemplated making some changes, and that these changes, doubtless, would correspond with the views of the Opposition. It was with this understanding that the bill passed the second reading and thence into committee. Now, clause 15 of the original act as introduced by the Government, reads thus:

"The Lieutenant-Governor in Council shall grant to the company, upon condition of its complying with the terms of its Act of Incorporation and with the provisions of this Act, a right to exact a royalty of not exceeding five per cent. upon alt gold and silver" (the italics are ours) "extracted from ores which may be found on any of the lands granted, or which may be granted by the Lieut.-Governor in Council, to any of the said companies; but the grant of any such royalty shall be made subject to the condition that at the end of thirty years such royalty shall cease, or be reduced so that the net earnings of the Company entitled to such royalty, including the profits of the road from every source, should not exceed 10 per cent. of the capital invested."

Such is clause 15 as introduced by the Attorney-General. Subsequently, in committee, the clause was amended at the instance of the Opposition and reappears as clause 14. This reads precisely like clause 15 until the fourth line is reached when, it goes on to say that:

"A royalty of not exceeding five per cent. over and above working expenses, and upon and subject to such regulations as the Lieut.-Governor in Council may see fit to make, upon all gold and silver extracted from ore which may be found upon and on the lands granted by the Lieut.-Governor in Council to any of the said Companies; but such royalty SHALL NOT EXTEND TO MINES WHICH MAY HAVE BEEN ACQUIRED OR HELD BY COMPANIES OR INDIVIDUALS BEFORE THE RAILWAY COMPANY SHALL HAVE FILED ITS MAP OR PLAN UNDER THE RAILWAY ACT, SHOWING THE LINE OF THE PROPOSED RAILWAY."

The difference between the clause submitted by the Government and the clause as it appeared after passing through the crucible of the committee, it will be noticed is radical. Provision is made for the imposition of the royalty only on the PRODUCT OVER AND ABOVE WORKING expenses, a feature conspicuously absent from clause 15, the clause offered by the Government.

Mr. BEAVEN, however, was not satisfied with it. Lines four and five, in his opinion, were not explicit enough. He wanted the lines to read, "PERCENTAGE ON THE NET PROFITS, NOW, HOWEVER, EXCEEDING FIVE PER CENT." This reading, however, the Government would not consent to. It was not in line with their class policy. Passing on to the clause at it now stands on the statute books and known as clause 13, it reads thus:

"The Lieut.-Governor-in-Council may grant to the company upon condition of its complying with its act of incorporation, and with this act, and upon and subject to such regulations as may be made by Order-in-Council, the right for 25 years from completion of the railway, to exact and collect a percentage not exceeding 5 per cent. over and above working expenses, on gold and silver extracted from ores which may be found upon any of the lands granted by the Lieut.-Governor-in Council to the company, but such percentage SHALL NOT APPLY TO MINES WHICH MAY HAVE BEEN ACQUIRED BEFORE AND ARE HELD BY MINING COMPANIES OR INDIVIDUALS AT THE TIME OF THE FILING BY THE RAILROAD COMPANY OF ITS MAP OR PLAN UNDER THE RAILWAY ACT, SHOWING THE LINE OF THE PROPOSED RAILWAY, NOR SHALL SUCH PERCENTAGE APPLY SO LONG AS SUCH MINES ARE HELD BY SUCH MINING COMPANIES OR INDIVIDUALS OR THEIR LAWFUL SUCCESSORS IN TITLE."

It is not necessary to invoke the aid of a microscope to detect the difference between the royalty clause as it now stands, a law, and the crude dead give away of clause 15, the one submitted to the House in the first instance. The amendments in question were prompted, instigated, compelled by the Opposition, and yet if we were to accept the partial statements of the Premier in his speech, we should understand that the Opposition had no hand in the matter. The Hon. JOHN ROBSON ought to be aware that he will not be permitted to make partial and disingenuous statements of the kind in question without being challenged. Nor shall we permit the matter to drop here. What motive, we ask, had the Government in submitting a measure as it reads under clause 15. If there was nothing sinister in the motive, then we must attribute it to ignorance, and need we point out in view of either one or the other of these inferences the country owes a debt of gratitude to the Opposition. Why should not the Government have made clause 16 read as does clause 13, and thus have earned whatever credit attaches to the clause as it now stands. Echo answers, why?

THE BOULANGER OF NEW WESTMINSTER DISTRICT.

The Hon. JOHN ROBSON, who as a political actor has assumed many difficult roles in his time, has probably never appeared to better advantage than he does just now as the BOULANGER of New Westminster district. As the "Chameleon" and "Honest One" he personated two difficult and distinct characters, in which, allowing for great versatility of talent, the actor must have underwent special and vigorous training to fit him for the exercise of entirely different mental functions. That he succeeded eminently in both roles is attested by the popular applause which has greeted his performances and the number of ducats which the public have been instrumental in pouring into his coffers. The rigorous mental training, then, necessary to the performance of the "Chameleon" and "The Honest One," having been well rewarded, it is not remarkable that a new play should have been prepared, in which our hero should play the part of the BOULANGER of New Westminster district. That his performances so far have shown remarkable dramatic power is not denied by anyone. The "idol of the people" having proved faithless to the confidence reposed in him, flies from his constituency and takes refuge in the lee of Vancouver Island. He at once centers the eyes of the whole country upon him. He becomes greater than ever. Being a crafty man, full of knowledge of good and evil, he knows the weakness of the poor habitant of his own district, and he decides to work on it. He walks the stage in front of his people, or rather rides up and down the C.P.R., alongside of his district, without going into it. Wherever he goes a few notoriety loving people wait on him, and lionize him, and make a fuss over him, and ask him for a road or a bridge as a memento of the occasion. He promises them all. The poor habitant, weighed down with an undue sense of his misfortunes, has been long looking for a deliverer, and as he sees this British Columbia BOULANGER written up by all the newspapers and talked about by all the people, he thinks that perhaps after all he was mistaken; That even here was the prophet and real deliverer. At least that is what he is expected to think. He appeals to BOULANGER to come back, and they will not punish him, and as "the idol" is seen approaching the front of the stage the shout goes up from all the people, "Vive le Robsone! Vive le Robsone!" At least, that is what they are expected to shout.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Mr. PETTIT, the Conservative candidate for Lincoln, has withdrawn from the contest, leaving the electorate no option apparently but to choose between RYKERT, the boodler, and the Reform candidate, Mr. W. K. PATTERSON. It now remains to be seen what the Conservatives are going to do about it. Will they confirm a convicted boodler or will they not. If the withdrawal of Mr. PETTIT was at the instance of RYKERT, as is intimated, the latter it would appear is of the opinion that Tory prejudice runs so high that they would sooner endorse a knave than a Reformer. The contest however, will put the Conservative party on its trial. If they condemn boodling by defeating RYKERT, there will be some hope left for the ultimate regeneracy of the party.

POLITICAL NOTES.

A mass meeting of the electors will be held in the Victoria theatre on Tuesday evening next, which will be addressed by the Opposition candidates.

The Opposition committee rooms are situated in the Victoria theatre block on Douglas street, where a meeting of all who are willing to assist Messrs. BEAVEN, GRANT, MILNE and RICHARDS in the work of the campaign will be held this evening.

Ordination of the Rev. W. S. Bannerman.

A recent number of the Princeton, N.J., Press contains an account of the ceremony of full induction of five young men to the Christian ministry at a meeting of the New Brunswick, N.J., presbytery. One of the young men is well known in this province, viz. Mr. W. S. Bannerman, who was engaged as school teacher for some years at Cedar Hill and later at Cariboo, in both of which districts he was very highly esteemed. His future field of labor is the Congo Free State, Africa, for which place he leaves shortly to engage in missionary work. In delivering his charge Dr. McCosh said: "You, Mr. Bannerman, are going to a country called the Dark Continent, lying in barbarism and heathenism. Hitherto less has been done for Africa than for any other quarter of the globe. A new era has dawned upon that continent. The nations of Europe, England, Italy, France, Portugal and Germany are each laying hold of large regions. They will introduce trade and commerce, arts and sciences in the course of time. We have to see that they do not introduce with the virtues and vices of civilization, intemperance and licentiousness. There is a crisis in Africa at this time greater than any that has occurred since the days of the Pharoahs. You, my brother, are going out to carry with you a greater good in proclaiming the riches of Divine Grace, than all the wealth that the European countries can import into that country."

Of the other four heroes of the church ordained at the same time one goes to Japan, one to Syria, and one to China.

Use Pendray's Crescent stove polish for a "black shine." It simply beats all. Ask your grocer for it.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY.

Mr. A. M. Nelson Set Upon by Footpads Who Got Nothing.

A bold attempt at robbery was made this morning, shortly after midnight, at the entrance to the C. P. N. dock. Mr. A. M. Nelson of New Westminster, was on his way down to the dock to board the Islander for Vancouver, when he was set upon by two footpads, before he saw them. One, who is described by Mr. Nelson as a large man, dealt him a heavy blow with a club, which knocked him down, and as he fell it is supposed he received another, for he has the marks of two distinct blows on the side of the head, one just above the left eye, and the other below it. His cries for help brought the watchman of the C.P.N. dock to his assistance in time to prevent his being robbed, as Mr. Nelson says one of the robbers attempted to thrust his hand into his pocket. When the watchman arrived he found the victim of cowardly assault lying midway between the dock and Wharf street, bleeding very profusely from his wounds. His coat was covered with blood, and the rim of his hat cut completely off with the force of the blow he received above the eye.

Dr. Milne was summoned and found it necessary to put several stitches in the wound below the eye. He was of the opinion that it was made by some blunt instrument.

Mr. Nelson was also seen to-day by a reporter and said his head did not feel quite well, but otherwise he was all right. He has not the faintest idea who the robbers are for the reason that he was struck before he was aware of their presence. He had, however, some $700 which was paid to him yesterday and unless it was some one who knew that he had that amount of money he does not know what could have prompted the deed.

The police are investigating the matter, but there are no developments so far.

WHITE KIDS IN ORDER.

Not a Single Case to Come Before the Assize Court.

On Mouday, the 19th inst., the regular Spring Assize Court will be called. The notices for the grand and petit juries have been given, and all the preparations made for the regular criminal sessions. There is one important omission in the arrangements, however, and that is, there are no prisoners to be tried.

This state of things is due to the Speedy Trials Act, which has kept many cases out of the Assize Court in the past, and has now reduced the cases to such an extent that there is not a single one on the docket to go before the grand jury. This is the first time in the history of Victoria that such has been the case, and in consequence it is in order to present the justices of the court with white kid gloves.

The absence of any cases on the docket also shows that there is a marked decrease of crime in the district. Of all the cases dealt with by the speedy trials court, none of them were for serious offences; there were one or two assaults with intent, and one breaking and entering, but the principals in these were all foreigners and strangers to British Columbia.

THE EIFFEL TOWER.

Struck Six Times by Lightning—A Magnificent Spectacle.

PARIS, May 15.—In an extraordinary storm which broke over Paris this afternoon the Eiffel tower was struck no less than six times by lightning. At about twenty-five minutes past six a dense volume of clouds struck the lightning conductor. A flash came zigzag out of the clouds and rain, straight down the conductor, and was visible all the way, leaving a thin golden streak. At the same time a thunder clap was heard as loud as the gun which, during the Exhibition, announced six o'clock in the evening. At half-past 6 a magnificent display of lightning issued from dark violet clouds, and three flashes coming from opposite points joined simultaneously at the summit of the lightning conductor. These like the first left a fine golden streak in their trail. At the same time was heard a heavy rattling of metal as if the whole tower had been shaken by a strong hand. At 6.34 p.m. a new flash of lightning even more magnificent than the preceding ones, developed and formed two horizontal branches of pale violet, which coming from opposite directions, joined over the conductors. Lastly, at 6.36 p.m. lightning struck the tower. Three streaks of lightning illuminated the skies, followed by a clap even heavier than the previous ones. The vast metal structure vibrated for a long time.

From the Oratorio's

Next Wednesday evening the music-loving public of Victoria will have an opportunity of listening to a programme which should please the most fastidious. Sacred choruses from the great masters, such as "And the Glory" from Houdel's Messiah, "The Hallelujah Chorus" from the same work, "Oh, Father Whose Almighty Power" from Judas Maccabeaur by the same composer, and others equally meritorious. The beautiful soprano solo "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth," and the tenor solo, "In Native Worth," will be rendered by well known vocalists. The secular part will be equal in merit to the first. Prof. Sharpe has wrought hard to make the concert a success. The chorus is singing splendidly, and as the soloists are all under his personal tuition a great treat is in store for those who attend. The tickets are for sale from members of the Women's Auxilliary of the Y. M. C. A., and also at the principal book and music stores. The price is the popular one, fifty cents. The object is a worthy one and Philharmonic Hall ought to be crowded to the door next Wednesday evening. A rehearsal will be held in the hall of the Y. M. C. A on Monday evening next at 8 o'clock sharp.

Worth Seeing.

A fine oil painting of Mr. Gardner Kellogg, chief of the Seattle fire department, has just been completed by Mr. Roland Lee, the artist, and has been placed temporarily in one of the windows of Kellogg's drug store. As a work of local art it has attracted no little attention, and is well worth the trouble of going a block out of one's way to see.

Miners' Meeting.

NANAIMO, May 17, 8 a.m.—A large procession of miners has left here for Wellington, where a grand mass meeting is to be held to-day. There will be upwards of 1000 miners assembled. Arches and banners span the road between Nanaimo and Wellington. Two brass bands headed the procession.

Business Over the Water.

Mr. Wm. Munsie returned from a trip to the Sound last evening. He found the bustle of business everywhere. Port Townsend, he thinks, has quite doubled in population since last fall and is going ahead rapidly. There are several hundred men engaged on railway work for the Oregon Improvement Company, who have contracted to make connection with the railway system of the country, for the Union Pacific. At a sale of land a few days ago $180,000 worth was disposed of, and very large prices realized. Mr. P. Hickey of this city was a large purchaser.

THAT UNANIMOUS NOMINATION

The Vancouver News and Westminster Columbian Repudiate the Absurd Story.

From the Vancouver News.]

An attempt has been made to give wide circulation to the statement that a well-known citizen of New Westminster telegraphed a few days ago to the Premier asking him if he would represent that city in the Legislature if he were elected by acclamation. Mr. Robson, being gifted with more political perception than his querist, declined the glittering bait but took advantage of the opportunity to make a little declaration of his lifelong devotion to his old constituency in the style in which Cardinal Wolsey once referred to King Henry. Acting on the suggestion, a gentleman of this city who is very anxious to show that his zeal for the Government exceeds that for the welfare of the community in which he lives and in which he has accumulated all that he possesses, went to the trouble of going up the railway to meet the Premier and make a proposal that he should allow himself to be put in nomination for Vancouver, the assurance being given that his election was certain. Much as Mr. Robson would like to represent this constituency instead of the District, he gave the political wire-puller to understand, in terms so forcible that there was no possibility of their being misconstrued, that he was not so foolish as to court inevitable defeat. The Premier will undoubtedly rise in the opinion of all decent people by his curt and decisive refusals to mix himself up with such improper proposals.

Unless there was abundant testimony as to these facts, it would be difficult to make anyone acquainted with the position of things believe that these circumstances could have happened. Such stories would, perhaps, not be doubted if they related to some remote corner of Asia Minor where the head man of a village can always, for a consideration, get up an address testifying to the affection which the peasants feel towards the most tyrannical Pasha to be found in the Sultan's dominions. But we did not think that in the year of Grace A.D. 1890, in the two most enterprising cities of British Columbia, there could have been found persons with any pretension to an understanding of the opinions and feelings of the community in which they dwell, who would propose to enter into a deliberate contract to deliver over the constituencies without any authority, either given or implied. Yet this is what has virtually been done. It is not reasonable to suppose that these individuals would have taken the trouble that they did unless they had got the idea that they could carry out the bargain which they proposed. If Mr. Robson, in a moment of thoughtlessness, or because he was not really well informed as to the sentiments of nine-tenths of the people in these two constituencies, had signified his acceptance of one or other of the proposals made to him, what would have been the result? Do these over-zealous partizans really believe that they could have delivered the goods in that case? And if they do would they not be ashamed to tell the methods by which such an end could be attained? Probably nothing which can occur throughout the present campaign could give a clearer idea of the low state of political morality existing among some of those who, we are very ostentatiously told by one of the subsidised sheets are "large employers of labor," than these simple proposals of directing the suffrages of thousands of voters, not only without their consent, but actually in defiance of the wishes of a large majority of them.

From the Columbian.]

"Mr. John Hendry, as an individual elector, had a perfect right to gratify his curiosity by asking the Hon. John Robson if he would accept the suffrages of the electors of New Westminster city; but we emphatically protest against the publicity which has been given to an altogether insignificant and private matter. Whether Mr. Hendry imagines that he holds this "——d little burgh" (to quote the forcible is not elegant Van Horne) in his pocket, or not, we cannot say—we take him to be too sensible a man to harbor such an hallucination; but we do say that his action as above, together with the publicity given it, places this city in an utterly false, ridiculous, and disadvantageous light.

The fourteen hundred odd voters of this city, most decidedly, have not asked Mr. Robson even to stand for the city, much less insinuated that they would be pleased to elect him by acclamation. Under other circumstances, we do not say than such an offer might not have been heartily and unanimously made; but circumstances alter cases, and the electors of New Westminster City, and the District, too, we believe, as well as Vancouver City, and some of the Interior constituencies, are thoroughly convinced that, in the crisis which has been precipitated by the Redistribution Bill, the true course is to sacrifice all our predilections, to know neither Government or Opposition—as neither can help us in this matter—until we have put ourselves in a most positive and powerful position to help ourselves—and to elect trustworthy and pledged men, unhampered by party responsibilities or affiliations, who, putting this question of Mainland rights and equal justice to all sections of the Province, FIRST, will allow no conflicting interest, obstacle, or discouragement to stand between them and the attainment of their most worthy object. * * *

The Hon. John Robson, with all due deference to his high position, his acknowledged abilities and large experience, and even his expressed right convictions on the subject of Provincial representation—is not wanted as a representative at this time for any one of the Lower Mainland constituencies.

We know that we speak the sentiments of the great majority of the electors of this city when we state the case as above, and we believe that we express, also, the convictions of a large majority of the electors throughout the District and in the other constituencies referred to. We, therefore, on behalf of the electors of Westminster City, emphatically repudiate the impression sought to be created by the publication in Truth this morning of the essentially private and unauthorized invitation noticed.

The answer of the Hon. John Robson to the despatch quoted, we might say, redounds to his good sense, and he will show still more good sense if he makes no attempt to use the utterly unimportant incident for political purposes for which it was evidently intended.

Coughs, Colds, Croup.

Allen's Lung Balsam was introduced to the public after its merits for the positive cure of such diseases had been fully tested. It excites expectoration and causes the Lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; changes the secretions and purifies the blood; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect that it is warranted to break up the most distressing cough in a few hours' time, if not of too long standing. It contains no opium in any form and is warranted to be perfectly harmless to the most delicate child. There is no real necessity for so many deaths by consumption when Allen's Long Balsam will prevent it if only taken in time. For Consumption, and all diseases that lead to it, such as Coughs, neglected Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma and all diseases of the Lungs, ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM is the Great Modern Remedy. For Croup and Whooping Cough it is almost a specific. It is an old standard remedy, and sold universally at 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. The 25-cent bottles are put out to answer the constant call for a Good and Low-Priced COUGH CURE. If you have not tried the Balsam, call for a 25-cent bottle to test it.

The Daily Times.

CITY AND PROVINCIAL.

VICTORIA TO TACOMA.

TO OPEN UP A VAST SECTION OF VALUABLE COUNTRY.

The Victoria, Port Crescent and Chehalis Railroad—Return of Mr. Lubbe From Tacoma. The Northern Pacific Now Certain to Come to Victoria.

Mr. T. Lubbe, Vice-President of the Victoria, Port Crescent and Chehalis Railroad, returned last evening from Tacoma. To a TIMES reporter Mr. Lubbe stated that the incorporation of the new railroad company, which comprised prominent Northern Pacific officials, made the early construction of the Port Crescent line a certainty. The preliminary survey work has been in progress for some time, and it is expected that at least twenty-five miles of the line will be built this year. The following is from the Tacoma Ledger:

Another big railroad enterprise was developed yesterday, which will prove of great benefit in opening up and making tributary to Tacoma a rich and extensive country, yet practically untouched. Yesterday articles of incorporation were filed of the Victoria, Port Crescent & Chehalis Railroad company, with a capital stock of $4,000,000. The object of the incorporation is to build a road from Port Crescent, on the south side of the Straits of Fuca, nearly opposite Beechey Bay, Vancouver Island, south to a connection with the Tacoma, Olympia & Grays Harbor railroad. The route, as proposed, runs along or near the straits, west to the Olympic range of mountains, which are crossed at or near the head of the Quillayute river, through a low pass. The valley of the Quillayute is followed toward the coast and then south, about fifteen miles from the Pacific coast line, crosses the Quinialt reservation (or if the right of way cannot be obtained, goes around it) next to the head of the Wishkah river, whose valley is followed for some miles, then across to the Wynooshe river and thence along the valley of that river to the Chehalis, where connection is to be made with the Tacoma, Olympian and Gray's Harbor railroad, which is the Northern Pacific. There seems to be little or no doubt that this latter road will be built before snow flies. The object of the new incorporation is to give to Victoria and Vancouver Island direct connection with the Northern Pacific, and to open up a fine timber, stock and agricultural country, hitherto almost entirely unknown and unexplored. At and near Port Crescent all the surveyed land is being rapidly taken up by settlers. Though particularly valuable for its timber, there is also much fine agricultural land. Indeed, this country, it is predicted by those who have studied it, is likely to be one of the greatest dairy districts of western Washington. The Tacoma, Olympia & Grays Harbor railroad, which is to connect this city with Grays Harbor and the ocean, will reach Olympia along the Black river valley, and will undoubtedly pass through Lake View. At what point it will cross the Chehalis has not yet been definitely determined.

The length of the road from Port Crescent to the Chehalis river will be about 150 miles. The route is partly explored and two parties are now in the field—one at the north and the other at the south end. The incorporators of the new company are T. Lubbe, Victoria; Paul Schulze, Portland; E. N. Costello, H. S. Huson and J. M. Ashton, Tacoma; and the trustees in addition to the incorporators are T. F. Oakes, New York city; Joseph Hunter, Victoria; C. F. Clapp, Port Townsend, and J. E. Lutz, Port Crescent.

To Housekeepers.

The heated term is upon us, and the need of a good disinfectant becomes apparent again. One of the cheapest, and at the same time most highly recommended articles of this description, is Napthazone, a notice of which appears in another column. It is a thorough disinfectant, and no housekeeper should be without it.

Disfiguring Signs.

Several of the merchants and storekeepers on Government street are complaing of the action of boys who went around the streets a few days ago posting advertisements on windows, signs and every available place. The poster, although prettily shaped, does not add much beauty to the looks of signs, etc.

Shipment to San Francisco.

Messrs. Cohen & Co. of San Francisco, have several men engaged on Spratt's wharf breaking up old boilers and iron which they have bought and intend taking South. Some of the machinery and boilers which are being broken up are out of steamers that played an active part in the early development of British Columbia.

To be Filled Up.

The large hole at the head of Yates street caused by the excavations for the Dunsmuir mansion, which has long been a source of danger, it being full of water 10 feet in depth, forming a lake, on the ice of which the school children skated last winter, and on which they have lately been performing feats of seamanship on two old planks, has been pumped out by the Deluge fire engine, which in twenty hours pumped out the miniature lake. The hole is to be filled up by Contractor Haggerty.

Two Trains Daily Between Portland and Spokane Falls.

Effective May 11th, 1890, the Union Pacific System will establish two daily trains between Portland and Spokane Falls. Pullman Palace Sleepers and Reclining Chair cars will be run between Portland and Spokane Falls without change.

This new arrangement will afford both local and through passengers additional and unsurpassed facilities. Tickets, detailed time of trains, and general information can be obtained upon application to any ticket agent Union Pacific System.

Church Notices.

Gorge Road Methodist Church—Sunday Services—Rev. J. E. Starr will preach in the morning and the pastor in the evening. The subject for the evening is "One design and place of fear in the human constitution."

Still at Seattle.

The United States revenue cutter Bear is still in Seattle harbor and will probably not start on her trip to Alaska until next Thursday, as Captain Healy has received orders from Washington not to leave for a week yet.

Wanted Funds.

A young man was busily engaged in canvassing the city yesterday for funds for a new object. He explained that the longshoremen of Portland proposed to go out on strike in a few days, and he was raising funds to help them out.

A Big Salmon.

An Indian living near Port Discovery bay caught a salmon in that bay on Wednesday which weighed seventy pounds. This is one of the largest salmon ever captured in those waters, and strange to say was hauled safely to the shore.

Political.

All friends of the Opposition candidates, Messrs. Beaven, Grant, Milne and Richards, are invited to meet at the committee rooms, No. 56 Driard Block, Douglas street, on Saturday evening, the 17th instant (to-night) at 8 o'clock.

Another Paper in Vancouver.

A new evening paper to be called the Telegram, will be issued in Vancouver shortly under the management of Mr. W. J. Gallagher, recently of the Vancouver News, and formerly a journalist in Ontario. The paper will be owned by a joint stock company.

Changes.

The present driver of No. 2 fire engine is Ed. McDonald, vice J. Gardner, suspended. W. Deasy has taken the Ezial truck, formerly driven by McDonald, and Ed. Whitcomb is now driver of No. 3, formerly in charge of Deasy. Frank Hinds has been temporarily appointed as tiller man on the truck.

Saturday Half Holiday.

All the wholesale merchants have agreed to close their places of business on Saturday afternoons, commencing June 1st. If a San Francisco steamer should come in on a Saturday afternoon, however, the stores will keep open as usual. This will give the clerks a chance to enjoy the sports which usually take place at the hill on Saturdays during the summer season.

Caned.

A splendid gold-headed cane was yesterday presented to Mr. C. S. Finlaison, of H. M. Customs. Collector Milne made a very appropriate speech, mentioning that for thirty years Mr. Finlaison had been employed in the Customs, and was now about to sever his connection with the service. Mr. Finlaison replied suitably, and thanked his co-laborers for their handsome gift.

Man Overboard.

On Thursday afternoon as the steamer North Pacific was en route from Victoria to Tacoma, and while rounding Point Robbins, the cry of "man overboard" created consternation among the passengers and crew. The vessel was stopped as quickly as possible, and a small boat lowered. The man was picked up, but in an unconscious condition. He proved to be a passenger from Victoria, named Peter Jansen. He afterwards recovered.

Rules not Observed.

Some days ago section 6 of the rules governing the fire department amended by order of the fire wardens and the hours of engine house duty strictly defined. Drivers of the apparatus are by the amendment to be in the houses from 9 p.m. to 6 a.m. Driver Gardner of No. 2, failed to comply with the order, and deliberately left the house at night. For this he was immediately suspended by the chief and another man put on. An investigation, asked for by the suspended driver, was held by the fire wardens last night, and evidence taken. The fire wardens will report at the next meeting of the board of aldermen, and as one of their rules has been intentionally broken, there is every probability of the chief's action being sustained. Discipline in the fire department is the first requisite of good working and must be maintained.

A Warning.

MR. EDITOR,—It is a well-known fact that the majority of people are inclined to look upon a cold in the head as a matter of little importance—involving at the most only a temporary inconvenience. No more disastrous mistake was ever made. The neglected cold in the head is the source of the catarrhal affections with which about seven-tenths of the people of this country are afflicted, and catarrh itself is too often the preliminary stages to consumption and death. The symptoms of catarrh are manifold, but among them may be mentioned, offensive breath; dull, oppressive headache; offensive droppings from the nostrils into the throat and bronchial tubes; deafness or partial deafness; constant hawking and spitting; weak and watery eyes; a hacking cough and feeling of general debility; ringing in the ears and frequent dizziness. These are but a few of the more general symptoms, and those who experience them should lose no time in applying a remedy. Delays are proverbially dangerous, and in the case of this too prevalent disease may lead to death. We offer Nasal Balm to the public as a positive cure for cold in the head and for catarrh in all its forms and stages. Nasal Balm has been tested in thousands of cases, and the testimonials in our possession prove that it is all we claim for it. It has cured other sufferers, it will cure you. It is easy to use, pleasant and agreeable and does not require a douche, or any torturing instrument to apply it. Give it a trial and be convinced of its great efficacy. Sold by all dealers or sent post free on receipt of price, 50c. for small or $1 for large size bottles by, addressing Fulford & Co., Brockville, Ont. daw

A Detective Arrested.

Mr. C. Webber, a Pinkerton detective from Kansas City, was taken to police headquarters from a lodging house at the corner of Fifth and Main streets, Seattle, early Thursday morning by detectives Ehman and Rogers. He was taken in to custody on suspicion of being a crook. He refused to go to the station at first and abused the officers, refusing to give his name or state his business. He was forced to go to headquarters where he finally consented to state his business and produce his credentials. On making a satisfactory showing he was released and left the station threatening vengeance for the insult offered him. Webber has been on the coast some time looking for an absconder from Kansas, and was in Victoria a while ago on a hunt for the man here.

As Natural as Life.

A day or two before the last local legislature prorogued, Mr. J. Savannah, of Hastings art studio, secured a splendid sun picture of the members of the House. The grouping has been artistically done, each separate face stands out as distinctly as if individually photographed. The artist evidently seized upon a very suitable moment, as all the members look exceedingly pleasant, Government and Opposition alike. The photos are most creditable to the artist, whose work is too well known to need further praise.

MUNICIPAL.

THE ATTENTION OF PARTIES INTERested is hereby called to Section 2 of the "Johnson Street Sewer By-law 1890," which reads as follows:

"It shall not be lawful for any person or persons to make or construct any drain or sewer to connect with the water way known as Johnson Street Ravine, and all private sewers now connecting with the said ravine shall be within thirty days (30) after the passage of this By-law filled up and obstructed."

Persons having such sewerage connection to their premises are hereby notified to make good and thorough drainage connection forthwith either directly, or by lateral drain, with the Johnson Street Sewer, under the superintendence of the Drainage Committee, as the Board of Aldermen on behalf of the Corporation of the City of Victoria hold themselves free from damage or loss in case any party or parties fail to observe the conditions of the "Johnson Street Sewer By-law 1890."

Any violation of the provisions of the above by-law will be dealt with according to law.

A DINNER TABLE TALK.

MR. SCRIBBLE IS FURTHER ENLIGHTENED ON B. C. POLITICS.

The Man on the Left Discourses on Responsible Government, Cowichan and the Attorney-General and Non-Resident Representatives.

The lull in the conversation which now followed the Judge's bestowal of his attention to the wants of the "inner man" gave Mr. Scribble an opportunity to commune with himself. "One of the guests," he said to himself, used "hear, hear." "What can be the significance of those words, I wonder? The Judge, certainly, spoke quite distinctly. Bears the same relation to the temporal that amen does to the spiritual, I suppose," said he.

"By the way," said Mr. Scribble addressing the party on his left, "the Judge, like the Irishman seems to be agin the Government?"

"No," answered the party on the left, "not necessarily so."

"He's a free lance. I suppose, as he comes a Knight of the Oblong Table," suggested Mr. Scribble.

"No, and yes," replied the party on the left.

"A mugwump," interjected Mr. Scribble.

"Our local politics," resumed the man on the left, "are such an infernal mess that I am doubtful whether the word is yet coined which expresses the Judge's relations to the respective parties, the Government and the Opposition, as they are called. Politics in this Province is not the expression of an idea; it has reference solely to appropriations."

"Appropriations," exclaimed Mr. Scribble. "Do you mean to say that your elections are governed wholly by such considerations?"

"That is practically what it amounts to," replied the party on the left. "Being constitutionally limited to the consideration of local affairs, the Government simply describes an immense municipality. Hence the great question with the party in power is, where and how shall we distribute the public funds that our sinecures may be perpetuated? The present Government says to the electorate, support us and we will give you a pull at the pap bottle. Oppose us and you shall hunger and thirst. The Opposition, on the other hand, assume that this is virtual bribery, that the question of appropriations is not legitimate electioneering material. The Opposition hold that only the Legislative Assembly is competent to decide such matters, and that all issues arising therefrom are matters lying between the legislators themselves and their constituents. What is the Government? A mere bureau of executives. The mere servants of the people. The Government may enunciate a policy (although nothing of the kind has been done in the Province of late years) but they have no authority to promise this and that. They arrogate that authority, however, and such is their influence over the major portion of the Legislature that they invariably carry their point. The effect of this is to give the Government the appearance of being possessed of oligarchic power. And indeed, they are nothing more nor less than an assemblage of oligarchs bound together by the strongest of ties—a consuming passion to do something for their country, provided they are well paid for it and do not have to work too hard. Nor is the influence they exert confined to the Legislature alone. The electorate so long accustomed to the paternal care of this gang of harpies have got into the habit of saying, the Government will do this and the Government will do that, as if there was no such thing as a Legislative body."

"And that is what you call responsible government?" queried Mr. Scribble.

"Yes," said the party on the left with a grimace.

"It seems to me," remarked Mr. Scribble, "that government of this kind is nothing more nor less than an enormous trust."

"Responsible government," replied the party on the left, "when conducted conscientiously and with due regard for public interests, seems to best conserve the requirements of democracy. A strictly conscientious government, having naught to conserve but the interests of the people, will, so soon as they discover a general opposition to their policy, step down and out. Responsible government presupposes that the government is honest, and that its sole object is to meet the wishes of the people. When, however, responsible government is not honest, when it is governed by considerations of greed and lust for power, and succeeds at the same time in debauching the legislature and the people, then is tyranny rampant, the conditions are actually worse than those of an acknowledged despotism. But the condition I have described would not be so bad if our oligarchs possessed administrative ability and a policy which could in any sense be called progressive. With respect to policy in this sense they are total strangers. Without the courage of their convictions, and without the ability to make their convictions good if they had any, they are veritable stumbling blocks in the pathway of progress. If they have ever gone forward it is the direct consequence of a lift from behind."

"This, surely, is an extraordinary condition of affairs," said Mr. Scribble. "Affairs such as these should insure a chance of government, I should suppose."

"Nevertheless," returned the party on the left, "there is no certainty of material change. You have heard, probably, of British conservatism. You have heard, doubtless, that reforms among us are of slow growth; that we are wedded to our institutions as we call them; that we regard a change with distrust. With this principle so active among us, is it likely that the Opposition will succeed in turning the rascals out? Here in the city, where the element is in some degree cosmopolitan, where mossback conservatism has been modified by contact with the world, and where the labor question assumes a tenseness which cannot be ignored, the Government's chances are by no means bright. Indeed, so strongly prepossessed with this idea are the Government that the Attorney-General has discreetly abandoned his city constituency for Cowichan, a district which has been heavily subsidized, and which, populated by men of means, has no especial concern in the questions which render the Attorney-General odious to his whilom constituency."

Wrapped up in themselves, I should say," said Mr. Scribble.

"The average elector," went on the party on the left, not heeding Mr. Scribble's remark, "concerns himself but very little with affairs outside of his immediate environment, and this peculiarity, added to the Tory instincts of the Cowichanite, confirms him as a Davieite."

"It would be supposed," suggested Mr. Scribble, "that as our friend the Law Clerk has just said, the Cowichanites would have political aspirations of their own. They must be a curious lot who will permit themselves to be represented by proxy."

"I quite agree with you," replied the party on the left. "The non-residential qualification, however, is a survival which the average Britisher is not yet prepared to repudiate, although the conditions which made it necessary at the outset of representative government are no longer necessary. Brought up to think that he must swallow his private inclinations in the interest of some wandering demagogue, it has become a habit, with the elector and he would not throw it off if he could. Nor am I so much inclined to blame him. It might be that a constituency should really want an outsider, and in such a case why should they not have him? The great objection to the non-residential qualification, to my mind, is that it enables degenerate political hacks to keep constantly before the people. Downed in one district they may bob up serenely in another, and it not infrequently happens that they make a success of it. But to revert more particularly to the Attorney-General; he has distinguished himself chiefly as the lubberly champion of the monied interest. Of course you are familiar with the cry, 'the Chinese must go. Well, the Attorney-General has taken opposite ground. True, he has made use of the slogan of Dennis Kearney as voluably as anybody when he was hard up for campaign material. Practically, however, that is to say, judging of him by his works, all he needs is a clean shave and a queue to pass for a Mandarin. Twice was the effort made to pass a law inhibiting the employment of Chinese under ground in coal mines, and twice did the Attorney-General oppose it on the ground of its unconstitutionality. This year, however, he seems to have had a revelation, for on a bill being introduced to the purport of the ones he had negatived, behold he supported it. It was election year and necessarily he found it convenient to sink his true principles that he might continue to hold his job. Cowichan, however, unlike Victoria, has no labor vote to speak of. The Cowichanites are employers. They can, consequently, subscribe right cheerfully to the Attorney-General's pro-Chinese platform, and so you see that his chances of election are fairly good."

"But I understand," interposed Mr. Scribble, "that the Attorney-General's grand object in standing for Cowichan is for the purpose of giving cabinet officers the widest possible geographical distribution."

"Pure rot," exclaimed the man on the left, "pure rot. Cabinet officers are chosen with reference to supposed fitness for the portfolio to be filled. As I said before the functions of the cabinet are executive and not legislative. What difference, therefore can it possibly make to the electorate where the cabinet officer comes from? The complaint of the people that certain localities are favored with respect to cabinet officers, that Victoria, for instance, has more than her share has its origin not in jealousy, but in the firm belief that the beneficiaries are chosen without regard to their fitness. They perceive that politics is made the vehicle of private gain, that considerations quite apart from the public interest are the guiding impulse in the formation of cabinet material. Shall it be supposed that people would have much faith in the legal attainments of an Attorney-General who one year votes against the inhibition of Chinese labor in coal mines on the ground of its unconstitutionality, but who the next year, an election year, takes precisely opposite ground? Thus again is it made apparent that the Attorney-General's plea for abandoning Victoria is not well taken. Can you wonder that in the light of these facts, in the face of so much squirming and stultification that the Judge, eminently conservative in his instincts, should indulge thinly veiled sarcasm?"

Mr. Scribble admitted that the Judge could hardly do otherwise. "But," continued he, "what am I to understand from the School Mistress' evident reticence with reference to the Department of Education?"

"This is a long story for me to relate to you now. To-morrow I will endeavor to enlighten you as to the School Mistress's reticence."

Large stock of Summer Hats, &c., of every description. Stevens & Jenkins, Douglas street. 7w

Several thousand feet of lumber and a lot of freight are on Spratt's wharf awaiting shipment to northern ports.

Nearly every sailing and row boat was out to-day, the fresh breeze and weather making a writer trip very pleasant.

The illumination committee have decided to decorate and illuminate the Government grounds instead of Beacon Hill Park.

The only case heard in the City Police Court this morning was that of a gentleman who was fined $5 for going over Rock Bay bridge at a pace faster than a walk.

The following members were the holders of share No. 149 the winning number in last night's drawing: A. E. Shore, Chas. Whiter, Lydia Emory and J. W. Jones.

Prof. Muller, of Australia, a lecturer of considerable note, will give a lecture at the Victoria on Monday evening, illustrated by stereoption views. The subject will be, "Round the World in One Hundred Minutes."

A wagon and team have been seized at the boundary line near Westminster, and the driver arrested in the attempt to smuggle a large quantity of wire across the line from the United States into British Columbia.

Ald. W. Borthwick, chairman of the fire and water committee of Ottawa, was in the city yesterday. He inspected the fire department here and complimented the heads of the department on the good system prevailing.

Mrs. Geo. Doughty, of Fort street, who died yesterday afternoon was a native of England. She had been in the Province for over 25 years. The funeral will take place to-morrow at 1:30 from Christ Church Cathedral.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.—Morning subject: "The discipline of the children at home and at school, with special reference to the use of the rod in our public schools." Evening subject: "Christ the central evidence of Christianity."

S. S. Sardonyx arrived at Nanaimo this morning, and is due here at time of going to press. As will be seen by to-day's advertisement, she will leave for the North on Tuesday, 20th inst., extending the trip to Skidegate and Masset.

In a recent number of the Stenographers Journal, Mr. Oscar Bass of this city has an interesting article on the Journalists of Canada. The Journal is printed in shorthand, of which Mr. Bass is a perfect master.

Appointed Organist.

The Lord Bishop of Columbia has appointed Mr. George Pauline as organist of Christ Church Cathedral. Mr. Pauline will preside to-morrow at the organ. In the competition for the position there were five candidates.

Mr. Wilson's Candidature.

The committee to promote the return of Mr. Charles Wilson as one of the representatives of the City of Victoria will meet at the rooms over his office on Monday the 19th, at 8 o'clock in the evening, instead of Thursday the 15th, as previously arranged.

A Pool to Maintain Rates.

The Puget Sound Steamship Pool, of which W. J. Jennings has been appointed chairman, is for the purpose of maintaining passenger and freight rates on the lines entering the pool on or before June 5th. The pool now embraces the Union Pacific, Puget Sound & Alaska Steamship Company, Canadian Pacific Navigation Company and the Pacific Navigation Company steamers. —Post-Intelligencer.

Custom Work.

Youths' washing suits, $1.25; tweed washing suits from $2.50; men's good suits from $6 upwards. Tickets are now been issued for the grand half yearly drawing, June 26th. The largest stock of boots and shoes in the Province. Russell, McDonald & Co., opposite the Iron Church, Douglas street.

C.O.O.F., M.U.

The regular fortnightly meeting of Loyal Waverly Lodge, No. 145, C.O.O.F., M.U., was held on Thursday night, 15th, at the Sir William Wallace Society's Hall. There was a good attendance of brethren, and five candidates were proposed and will be balloted for at the next meeting. Steps are being taken to organize lodges in the other cities of British Columbia, and there is every indication that this offshoot of the Manchester Unity will take a firm root in this Province.

A Cat-astrophe.

The quiet little town of Esquimalt was excited last evening over a case that came up before Mr. Fisher, J. P., this morning. The facts of the case are: A man accused his neighbor of owning a cat that killed his chickens. This his neighbor resented, saying that the cat did not belong to him. Yesterday, however, the neighbor and an officer were standing in front of the first man's house, when they noticed the cat eating a chicken that it had evidently stolen. While the two were still watching, the cat gave a sudden jump, and on investigation it was found to have a bullet-hole through its head, although no report of a gun had been heard. The neighbor who had disowned the cat before then said it was his, and accordingly issued a summons against the owner of the chicken for shooting the cat, although he did not even hear a report. The general opinion is that a cat-a-pult did the deadly work.

The case was decided in favor of the defendant, and the prosecutor was ordered to pay the costs.
